

trend to try:
terracotta

Step into the warmth of your home with the earthy embrace of terracotta, a colour that effortlessly transforms your home into a haven of comfort and style. As Autumn approaches, its time to give your space a bold statement that welcomes both guests & the season.

For a pop of visually inviting contrast and modernity why not team up your terracotta with a bold complementary tone. We love this look paired with a bold oceanic blue such as Resene Gypsy Queen or Resene Wavelength.

Resene Gypsy Queen

Resene Wavelength

Resene Moccasin

Resene Float

Resene Wallpaper
37868-2

Resene Wallpaper
DGN102246125

complete the look

terracotta tones

A shade that's not quite pink and not quite brown but not exactly beige or red either, it's a somewhat difficult hue to define. Since it's generally considered to be the colour of natural clay pots, and because the colour of clay differs wildly from region to region, it's only to be expected that the word will mean different things to different people.

No matter what you call it, bringing tones of terracotta into your home will ensure you have an elementally inspired sanctuary with a cocooning feeling of warmth and security.

For the most trendy terracottas, look to Resene Sunbaked, Resene Moccasin and Resene Raging Bull. If a richer brown shade is what you're after, try Resene Desperado, Resene Redwood or Resene Hairy Heath.

This trend is perfectly at home with organic and sculptural shapes – think natural hewn wood, basket weave and delightfully age-worn vintage furniture.

For a complementary take, pair it back with an earthen pink shade like Resene Coral Tree or Resene Brandy Rose.

TOP TIP

- Matte finishes, such as Resene SpaceCote Flat, help hide imperfections on less-than-perfect surfaces and accentuate the earthiness of Resene paint colours on walls and ceilings.
- Tonal looks can be created by layering a colour family. Evolve this by mixing and matching Resene colours that have similar undertones for added depth.

Resene Tuscany

complete the look

Resene Tuscany

Resene Raptor

Resene Brandy Rose

Resene Raging Bull

Resene Wallpaper 37859-5

Resene Wallpaper 37862-2

For all the Kiwi-made paints, colour trends, inspiration and expert advice you need for your projects, visit your local Resene ColorShop.

Resene
the paint the professionals use